

Loop Pool

Film light sculptures, 2026

Private preview

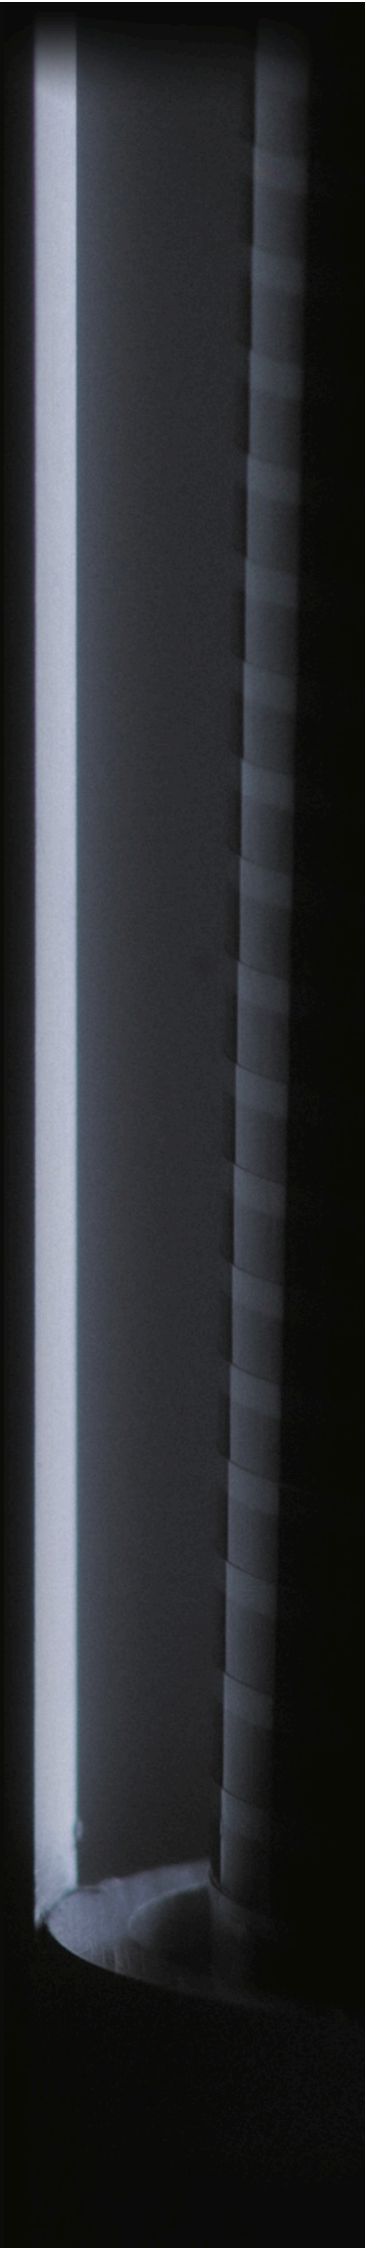
I've spent seven years making work about the feeling of time. And the last three designing a vessel for it.

The way we hold on to it.
The way we remember it.

These light sculptures are that vessel.

What you see is time, held in 16mm film.
Here, 1,920 frames, 1,920 moments.
Held as colour and light, seen at once, uncut.

A memory of time, illuminated.



Loop Pool: a full roll of 16mm, coiled and lit from within, housed in brushed aluminium.

Gold

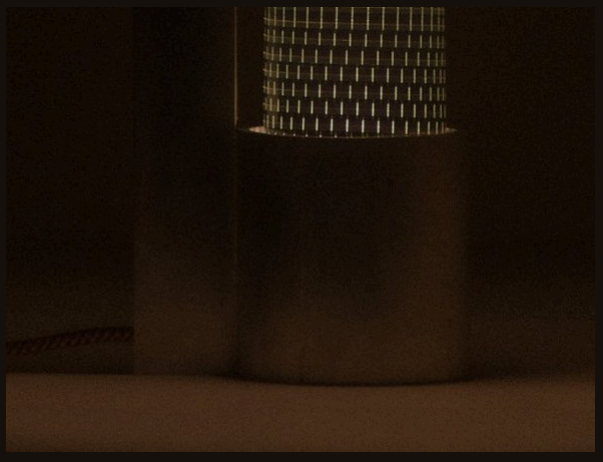
A warm gold, the colour of a grounding light. It rises out of black and settles back into it.



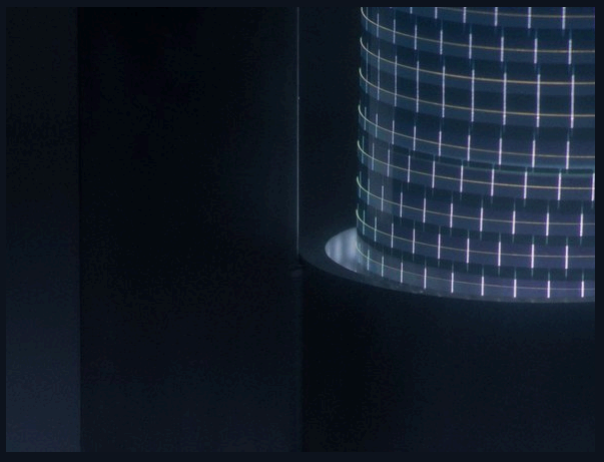
Price

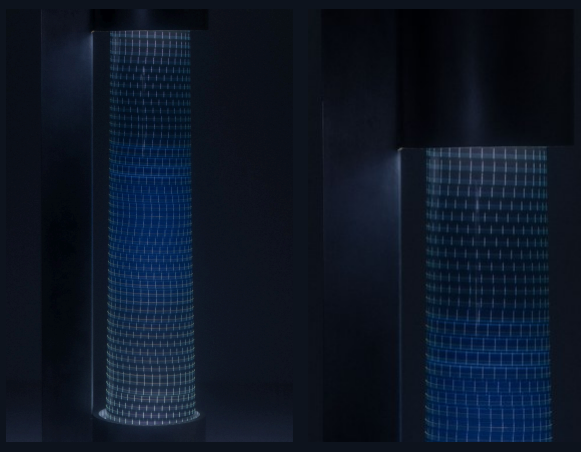
$880 AUD

006

Blue

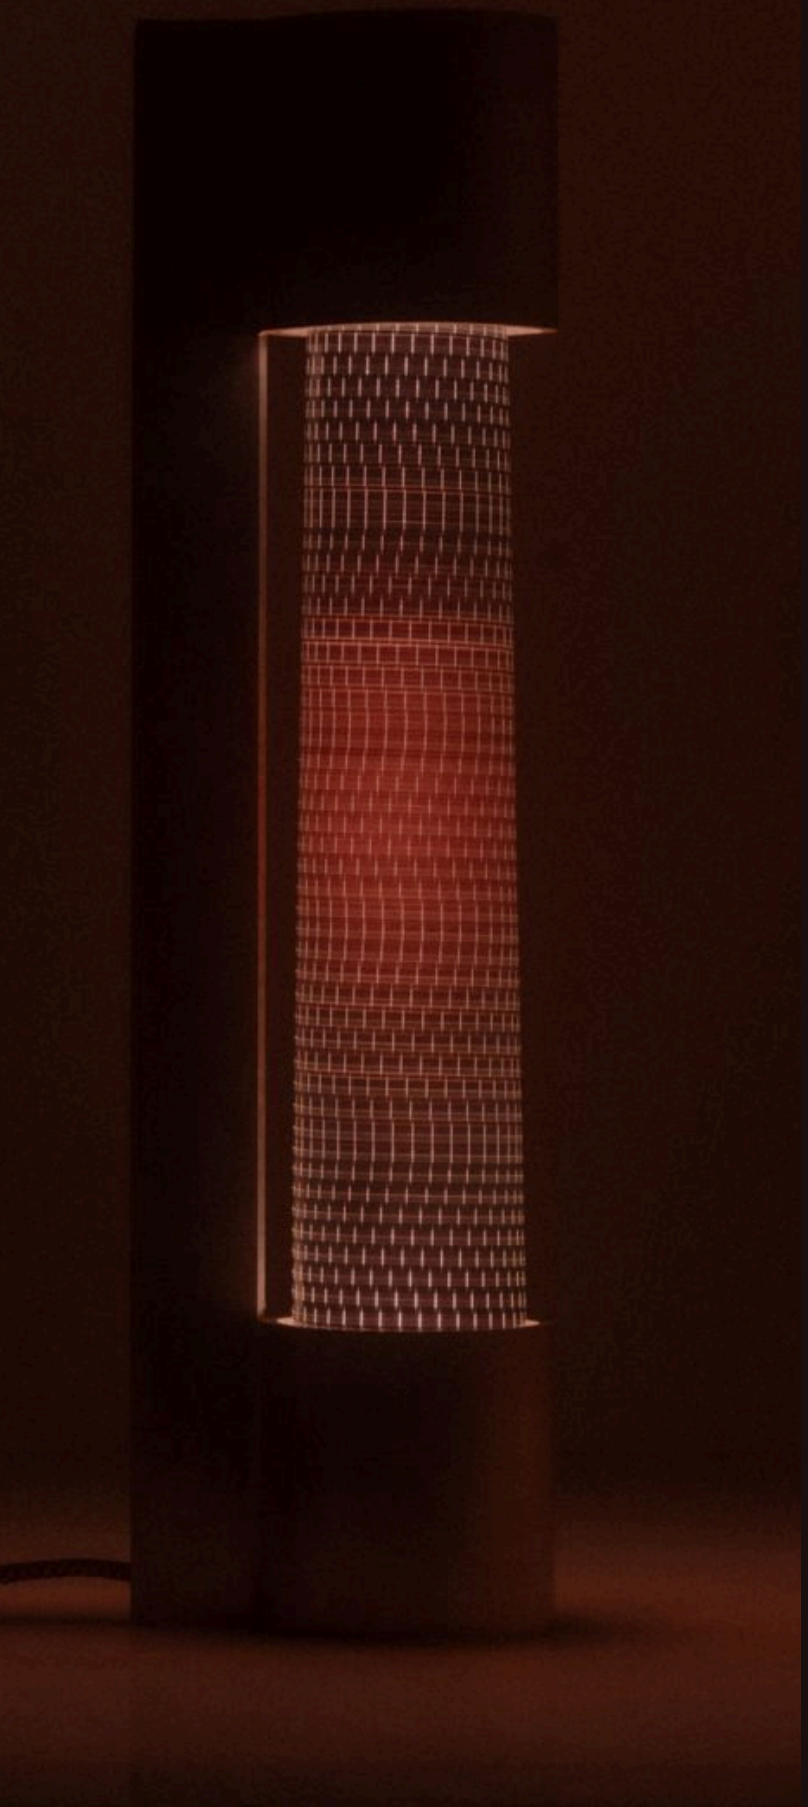
A single glow of ultramarine, rising out of black. The blue is sampled from a frame of my own film.





Price

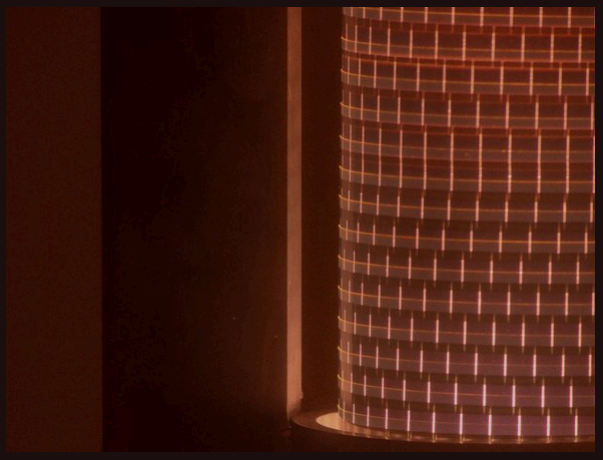
$880 AUD

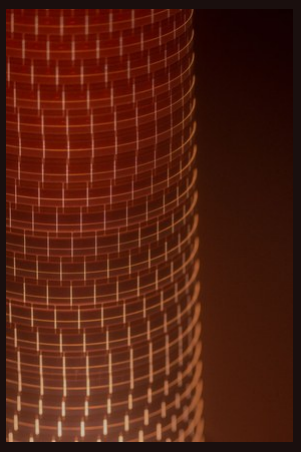


007

Red

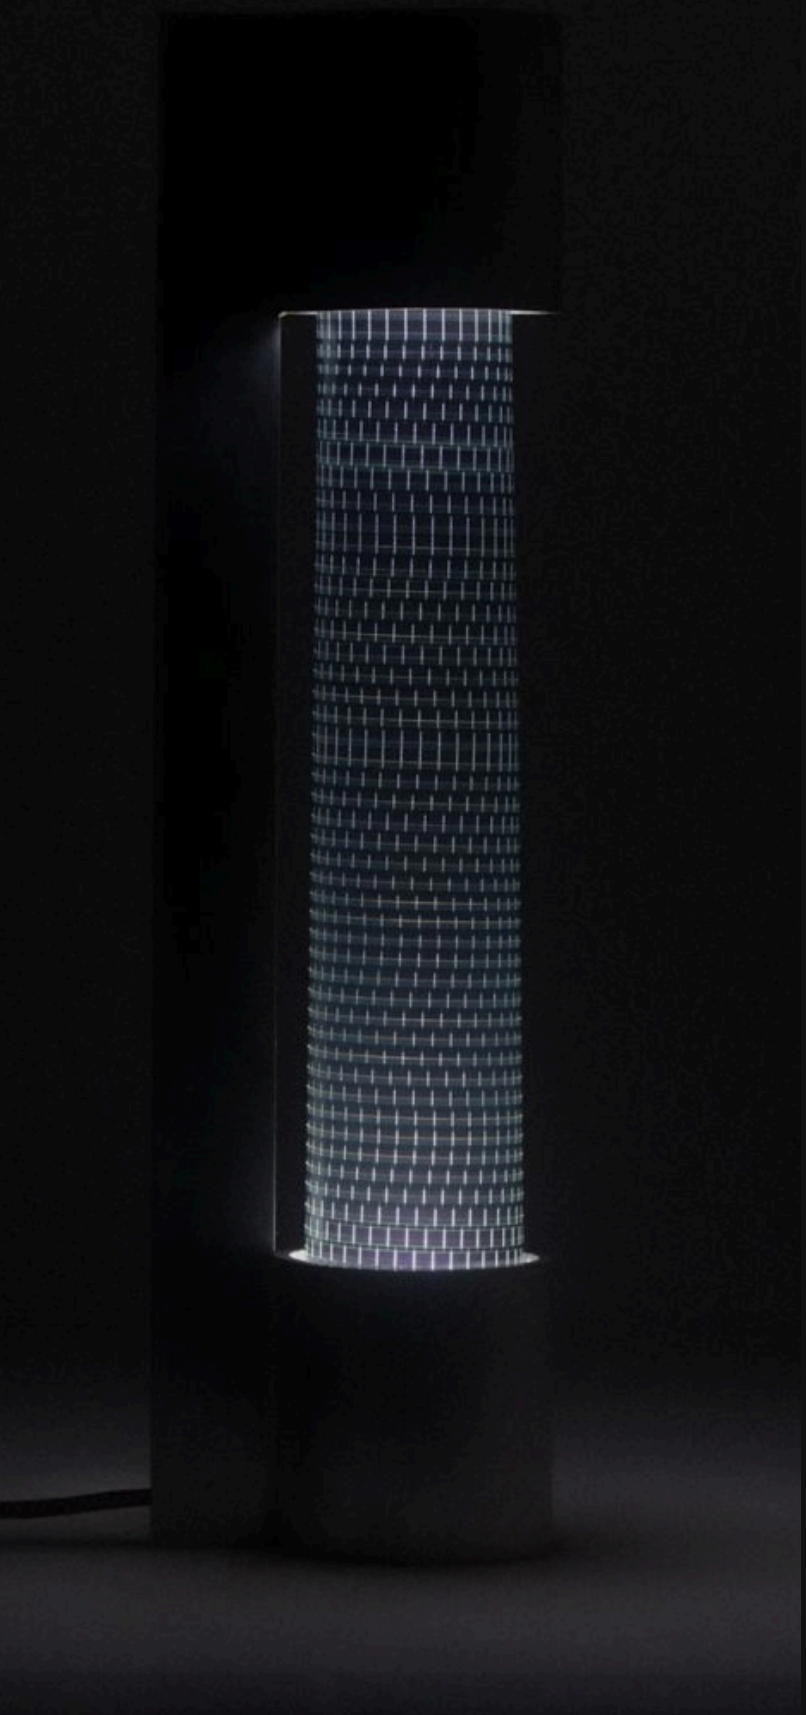
A deep, warm red, between wine and oxblood, taken from the red field of a painting I keep coming back to.





Price

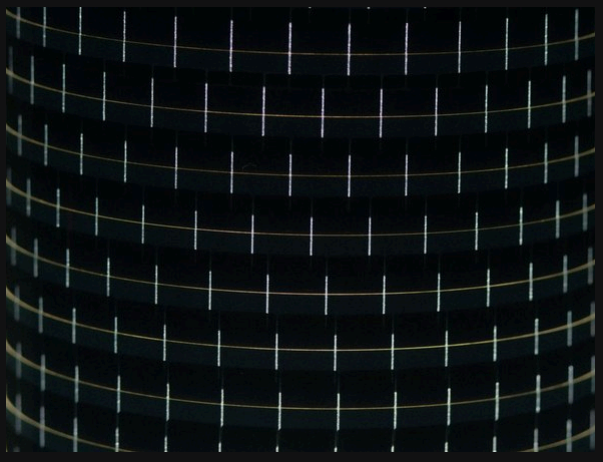
$880 AUD

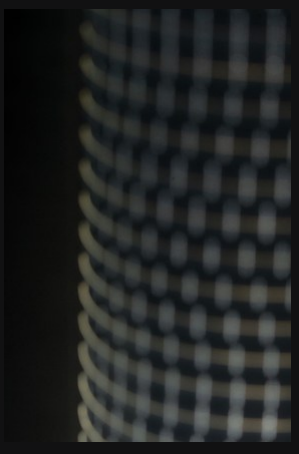


008

Black

Black film from the first frame to the last. The light only finds the clear edges of each frame, so the tube reads as a quiet column of marks.





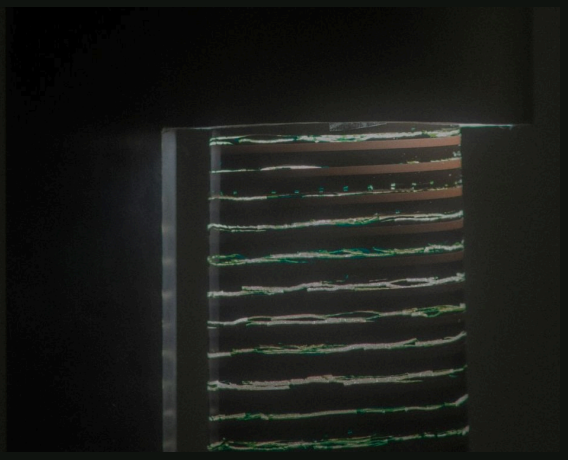
Price

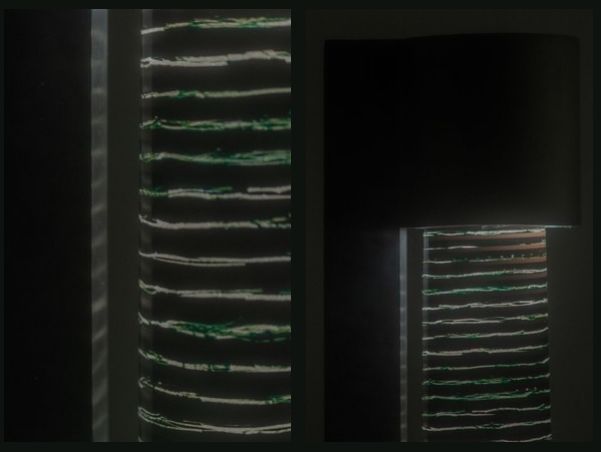
$880 AUD

009

Scratch

A pure black film, made from expired 1990s Ektachrome with a magnetic sound stripe, then scratched by hand. The bronze rim of the stripe catches the light, and green rises up from deep in the colour dyes as the scratch cuts down through the layers of emulsion.





Price

$880 AUD

Offered privately until 01 December, 2026.

Each Loop Pool is made by hand, so no two are ever identical. After the private preview, Loop Pool is released publicly.
